Key skills and facts:

I am keen on broadening my IT skills in the field of front-end development. I learned a lot on courses, but I am fully aware that this is just a beginning of my journey, so I would gladly cooperate with an employer who puts an emphasis on employee development.

I always put great effort into my ongoing projects and treat the employers and co-workers with honesty and loyalty. I am a very sociable person who easily forms bonds and relations. I am great at teamwork as well as individual projects.

My linguistic studies taught me how to work with great amounts of data, and research skills.

Hobbies and extra curriculum activities:

I love literature, especially fiction (sci-fi and fantasy), but I don't shy away from classics. I also dabble in writing poetry. I am interested in Polish, Russian and Hollywood cinema. I used to do martial arts such as boxing and Kyokushin karate for several years. Recently I got back to boxing.
